

CMCI Administrator Change

From 1st August 2015 the role of Administrator and Calculation Agent for the UBS Bloomberg Constant Maturity Commodity Index (CMCI) will be assumed by Bloomberg Financial LP. Bloomberg has been the partner and co-sponsor of this index since its launch in 2007. From 1st August 2015:

- Bloomberg will take responsibility for calculation, administration and publication for the index family.
- Bloomberg will chair the Index Governance Committee from the July 2016 meeting.
- There will be no change to index methodology associated with this move.
- There will be no change to index names or to Bloomberg/Reuters tickers.
- UBS will remain the owner of the intellectual property of the CMCI index family.
